BOWEN ORDERED OUSTED; FINED $1,000 BY COURT

Execution of Sentence Deferred 60 Days to Permit an Appeal

Kankakee, Ill., July 11—(AP)—State Welfare Director A. L. Bowen today was fined $1,000 and ordered removed from office by Circuit Judge James V. Bartley of Joliet, who sentenced him on a charge of gross omission of duty in connection with an epidemic of typhoid fever at Manteno state hospital last summer.

Execution of the sentence was deferred 60 days when Bowen's attorney asked for delay to perfect an appeal.

Bowen was in court and declined comment on the sentence. He appeared disconcerted.

Chalmers C. Taylor, Bowen's attorney, sought a new trial and asked an arrest of judgment, but both were denied by Judge Bartley, who then granted the stay.

Bowen remained at liberty on his original bond of $5,000.

"The only extenuating circumstances are the age of the defendant and the tremendous amount of work he took upon himself, but I do feel that he should be removed from office," Judge Bartley said. Bowen is 70 years old.

Bowen was indicted for malfeasance in office in connection with the epidemic, but the charge later was dropped and he was tried on the gross omission of duty count. A jury deliberated 96 hours last February, but disagreed. The second trial was without a jury with Judge Bartley deciding the aged defendant's guilt or innocence on testimony of the first trial.

Others Indicted

Indicted with Bowen were Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, managing officer of the Manteno hospital; Dr. D. Louis Steinberg, assisting managing officer, and Mrs. Lillian Williams, dietitian. Charges against all three were dismissed subsequently. Dr. Hinton and Mrs. Williams were dismissed from state service. Dr. Steinberg, who had arrived at Manteno only two weeks prior to the first death, was freed from his indictment by motion of the state.

Records of the state department of public health traced 453 cases of typhoid to the hospital and testimony at the trial showed 60 persons had died from the disease. Much testimony was to the effect that polluted water from wells at the institution was to blame.

State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro tried the case, which lasted two weeks.

Bowen, a veteran of the state welfare department, testified at the trial that "he would do the same thing again." He said the state had the money to build water purifying plants at Manteno but "believed he needed the money worse at other places."

NO CHANGE LIKELY NOW

Springfield, Ill., July 11—(AP)—Governor Horner's office said today that the ailing chief executive would be informed of a Circuit court order removing Public Welfare Director A. L. Bowen from office but that any comment would be "unlikely."

Administration leaders expected that no change in the administration of the welfare department would be made pending an appeal to a higher court by Bowen, who was fined $1,000 and ordered removed from office on charges of gross omission of duty in connection with a typhoid fever epidemic at Manteno state hospital.

At a press conference last November after Bowen was indicted by the Kankakee county grand jury, Horner praised the public welfare director's service and said he was "shocked and astounded" by the indictment.

Bowen, 70 years old, is a veteran in state welfare work, serving under five governors, both Republican and Democratic. A newspaper editor with experience in Bloomington and Springfield, he was first appointed to the state board of charities in 1909 and served until 1921, when he became editor of the Illinois State Journal in Springfield.

In 1929 he was appointed Superintendent of Charities by Governor Louis Emmerson and was named state Welfare Director by Governor Horner in 1933.

Knox, Stimson Take Up Cabinet Positions

Washington, July 11—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox took the oath of office as secretary of the navy at the White House today and left immediately for his department to take over.

His comment to reporters was that "this is a working job—not a talking job."

At the same time Henry L. Stimson, like Knox a Republican, went to work as secretary of war for the second time in nearly 30 years. Stimson took his oath yesterday. Knox's oath was administered by Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter of the Supreme court, a friend of the Chicago publisher.

Notes in Advance

Chicago, July 11—(AP)—Notes taken in advance of the Democratic national convention:

Anne and Betty, the attractive daughters of National Chairman James A. Farley, came to see the sights, and remained to answer telephones and punch typewriters at the national committee headquarters.

There are 20,000 seats for spectators at the Chicago Stadium, where the convention will open next Monday, and 200,000 requests for tickets. Farley raised a laugh when he asked a reporter whether he could spare two.

Florists are worrying about a Democratic flower to be used as a decorative motif. They have suggested the white rose, which, in the language of the flowers (so they say) means "I am worthy of you."

Gladioli are favored by Democrats with a sense of the fitness of things. They mean "armed and prepared."

Farley must find time from his legion duties to be a news commentator as well. A chain (NBC) has scheduled him for a brief review of each day's proceedings during the convention.

Garner boosters brought a corner of Texas to the Sherman hotel. Their headquarters is decorated with boots and saddles, fresh green cactus and the mounted head of a Longhorn steer.

Charles Michelson, the party's astute director of press relations, is among those who admit they do not know what the president is going to do about a third term. The reason: "I asked him not to tell me."

Mayor Edward J. Kelly, the host, is distributing real keys to the city to the delegates, the press and distinguished visitors. The magic cards will get them free admission to the Cubs baseball park, Arlington park race track, loop movies, radio stations and museums.

ANTI-WAR PLANK, AND THIRD TERM THEME OF TALKS

Democrats Consider Two Subjects Before Con- vention Meets

Chicago, July 11—(AP)—Democrats turned toward their convention city today talking about a third term for President Roosevelt and a platform declaration against sending Americans to fight in European wars.

Whether the president would take a third term nomination and lead the battle for the Democrats against the Republican standard bearer, Wendell L. Willkie, was the first question asked by incoming national committee members.

The platform maneuvers will start Friday, with Senator Wagner of New York arriving today with a preliminary draft. But coincidental with the presidential declaration of yesterday that America would not use its men "to take part in European wars" the early arriving party officials began to speak of a platform which would nail that idea into the campaign machinery.

Much still needed to be done to set the stage for the big nominating drama. So far headquarters had been set up for only Vice President Garner, Federal Security Administrator McNutt and Senator Wheeler of Montana. A subcommittee of the national committee still has to figure out how the abolition of the old two-thirds rule can be squared up to states that regularly go Democratic. The national committee has to work out a temporary roll of accredited delegates.

Elaborate Headquarters

The most elaborate convention headquarters set up so far were those opened by E. B. Germany of Dallas, Texas, in a loop hotel for Vice-President Garner.

Like J. Bert Clements of Helena, Montana, the Wheeler manager, Germany said the Garner campaign had been started on the theory that Roosevelt would not break the third term tradition and take the nomination.

Amid the growing talks that Roosevelt would take the nomination, Postmaster General Farley—speaking in his second and third roles as chairman of the national committee and as a candidate in his own right—said he had not changed his own mind. He previously had said his name would be put before the convention.

Friends of Vice-President Garner have insisted that his name would be dropped into the nominating pot, but Clements said Wheeler's would not if Roosevelt were proposed for renomination.

Work crews set into place wires, lights, chairs, sound apparatus and other equipment for the big show. Hundreds of flags and almost two miles of bunting had been hung among the web-like network of steel girders under the roof of the big Chicago Stadium.

ONE BIG QUESTION

Washington, July 11—(AP)—The big question in Washington today no longer is "Will President Roosevelt run for a third term?"

See Nazi Attempt to Intimidate Americans

Washington, July 11—(AP)—Secretary Hull said today that reported German activities in Latin America in connection with the forthcoming Havana conference apparently was a species of intimidation of nations whose sovereignty was entitled to the fullest respect.

The conference of American nations will meet July 20 to consider methods of joint action on western hemisphere defense and economic unity.

Hull's comment was prompted by questions at his press conference about dispatches, particularly from Central American countries, reporting that German diplomats had warned the governments of those countries against any action aimed directly or indirectly at Germany.

Amboy World War Veteran Suicides in Car This Morn

Earl Stout, 47, police magistrate of Amboy and World War veteran, suicided this morning by inhaling monoxide gas fumes from the exhaust of his automobile after he had arranged a contrivance to carry the deadly fumes into the car in which he sat. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Walker who reside about three miles southeast of Amboy discovered his lifeless body slumped in the driver's seat of the car at about 8:30 o'clock and summoned Dr. L. E. Bartlett of Amboy, who, upon arrival, pronounced the victim dead.

Dr. Kenyon B. Segner, coroner, was notified and ordered the removal of the body to the Mihm funeral home at Amboy where an inquest was conducted. Walker told the jury that he and his wife had driven to the home of a neighbor this morning and he had observed Stout's car parked beside the road on the old Sublette stone road south east of Amboy. Stout was seated on the right hand of the seat and waved when the Walker car passed, he said.

Verdict of Suicide

About 8:30 when the Walkers returned, Stout was slumped behind the wheel and the motor of his car was racing, the inside of the car being filled with gas fumes. An old inner tube had been attached to the exhaust pipe and a piece of garden hose tied to the tube led to an opening made by lowering the window of the coupe. An old blanket had been packed around the opening to prevent the fumes from escaping.

Walker remained at the scene and dispatched his wife to summon a doctor, remaining until Dr. Bartlett, and soon afterward, Coroner Segner arrived. The jury returned a verdict finding the death was due to monoxide gas poisoning with suicidal intent.

On the seat beside the body was found a pencilled note on an envelope which contained legal papers in connection with a divorce proceeding in which Stout had charged his wife Lily with cruelty. On the outside of the envelope was the inscription:

"To whoever finds my body:
"Please notify post 453 American Legion at Amboy. Please don't say that I had lost my mind. Please write my brother C. E. Stout, at Clinton, Ill. Thanks. Tell my wife she will not have to sign these papers. E. S."

Stout had been a resident of Amboy for several years and was formerly employed by the Illinois Central railroad. For the past several months he had served the city in the capacity of police magistrate. No funeral arrangements had been completed today and these will be announced later.

Scholarship Will Reward Guide Who Saved 3 Officials

Springfield, Ill., July 11—(AP)—John St. Germaine, the 18-year-old Indian guide who rescued three Illinois state officials from drowning in a Wisconsin lake last weekend, probably "won" a university education by the feat.

Arthur P. O'Brien, secretary to Governor Henry Horner and one of the rescued officials, said today that steps would be taken to see that the young guide realizes his wish to attend the University of Wisconsin this fall.

O'Brien said he and Director John J. Hallahan of the state department of registration and education would "see to it" that St. Germaine is able to enroll in the university.

"He said he wanted to go to the University of Wisconsin but didn't know whether he would be able to for financial reasons," O'Brien explained. "Well, he can quit worrying about that."

St. Germaine graduated from high school this year.

Martin J. O'Brien, Chicago, Cook county public administrator, died of shock after being pulled to shore by young St. Germaine who swam approximately a mile in rescuing the three Democratic leaders from the choppy waters of Crawling Stone lake near Minocqua, Wis., after their boat was capsized by waves Saturday night. Arthur O'Brien and Hallahan returned to their offices here today.

BITTER CONTEST SURE

Mexico City, July 11—(AP)—A bitter contest over last Sunday's violent presidential election appeared certain today when representatives of General Juan Andres Almazan, anti-administration candidate, established separate tabulation quarters in which to count the results of the voting in the federal district and elsewhere.

SKY IS THE LIMIT

London, July 11—(AP)—Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production, said tonight in the House of Lords that "the sky is the limit" in the purchase of aircraft from America.

"Our program is perfectly simple," he said. "It is to buy everything we can possibly get."

His Face Was Red

New Orleans, July 11—(AP)—C. T. Bruce, who weighs 205 pounds, accepted the offer of a roller skating team at a local amusement park to give any spectator a whirl.

Faster and faster they turned and Bruce's body rose to a horizontal position.

Then—Bruce's belt split and his trousers sailed into the crowd.

Bruce's shorts were varicolored but his face was just one color—red.

The chamber's vote, 45 to 8, came after a 10-hour session.

CLEAN POLITICS BILL WILL SOON BECOME STATUTE

House Passage of Hatch Measure Insures Its Early Enactment

BULLETIN

Washington, July 11—(AP)—The Senate completed congressional action today on legislation to restrict political activity by state and local government employees who receive pay out of federal funds.

Washington, July 11—(AP)—Overwhelming house passage of the Hatch anti-politics bill assured today its early final enactment, for the senate had only to agree to minor amendments before sending the legislation to President Roosevelt.

Both the chief executive and Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, have endorsed the measure. It bars political activity by state, county and municipal workers paid out in part with federal funds, limits campaign contributions to $5,000 a person, and places a $5,000,000 top on the expenditures of political committees.

With the potent backing of the two party heads, the bill went through the house in less than two days, although in the spring it had been a major controversy. The final house vote last night was 243 to 132, with 89 Democrats, 152 Republicans and two Progressives favoring enactment. Opposed were 120 Democrats, Rep. Ball (R-Conn) and Rep. Marcanonio (AL-NY).

The legislation supplements the Hatch law, enacted last year, forbidding political activity by most federal employees. This year's bill covers many state highway department workers, agricultural agents, and the like. All workers affected by the two measures may continue to vote but can not participate in political campaigns or management.

Subject to Dismissal

Violators will be subject to dismissal. State and local agencies which do not dismiss violators will be liable to a penalty equal to the accused employee's compensation.

Bomb Outrages in America Stir New York Police Head

New York, July 11—(AP)—Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine said today a number of bombs were found in Philadelphia while the Republican national convention was in session in that city. He did not say how many. Nor did he say anything about where the bombs were found.

Valentine made the disclosure in a talk to his detective force in which he asserted that the bomb explosion at the World's fair July Fourth which killed two detectives "is just the beginning."

The voice of the veteran and hardened peace officer choked with emotion as he spoke of the two victims of the bomb and declared that the department was out to "get" the perpetrators of the plot, convict them and "have them sentenced to their proper punishment—electrocution."

It was learned from another high police source that about seven bombs were found in various places in Philadelphia and that "some" of the bombs discovered were under construction in a meeting hall where communists gathered.

"Lieut. James Pyke (head of the bomb and forgery squad) went to Philadelphia while the Republican convention was in session," Valentine said. "Some bombs were found there, and he opened two of them."

He spoke to 675 detectives—one third of the detective force—assembled at police headquarters and planned to hold two other meetings with the rest of the force later today.

More Bombings Likely

Valentine warned the men that more bombings might come and urged them to exercise utmost precaution in handling bomb cases. He said the department "is now perfecting a technique in the bomb squad which will prevent further

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

If we could have lifted the roof off the Munich conference of the German-Italian partnership yesterday, we probably should have found the conferees as much concerned with the Italo-British naval battle in the Mediterranean as with the war-threats in the Balkans.

Actually the dangerous Balkan situation and this initial clash between the British and Italian navies are intimately related and both have a vital bearing on the Hitlerian plans for domination of Europe.

For this battle on the blue waters of the Mediterranean marks the beginning of a new phase of the war. It is to determine who rules the seas, and it is between the only two navies of any moment still left to Europe.

Upon the outcome hinges control of the entire Mediterranean area, the Near East and the Balkans.

Congress Rallies to Call for Total Defense of Nation

(By The Associated Press)

Washington, July 11—Congress, rallying to a call for "total defense", manifested a general readiness today to approve President Roosevelt's request for another $4,848,171,957 to advance the preparedness program.

Promises of support for the huge recommendation were coupled with widespread applause for the chief executive's pledge that no American troops would be sent to fight in old world wars.

His latest extraordinary defense message—the third in less than two months—went to Capitol Hill yesterday afternoon within a few hours of two other major developments.

The senate first voted, 66 to 16, to confirm Col. Frank Knox as secretary of the navy and then with dispatch rushed through the house-approved bill authorizing a $4,600,000,000 expansion of the fleet to "two-ocean" proportions.

The navy expansion measure was sent to the White House for the president's signature by unanimous house agreement today to nh or senate changes.

Scattered Criticism

Knox's confirmation followed by 24 hours the approval of a fellow Republican, Henry L. Stimson, as secretary of war. Stimson was sworn in yesterday.

Although Roosevelt's new preparedness request would boost the present program above the $10,300,000,000 level, only scattering criticism appeared in congressional comment.

A few legislators expressed doubt that the additional money and authorizations could be utilized immediately in view of the existing arms backlog. Senator Frazier (R-ND) said the recommendation sounded as if it were "for a foreign war, rather than national defense."

Roosevelt, in his message, divided his request into $2,161,441,957 cash and $2,686,730,000 contract appropriations.

London, July 11—(AP)—Twelve enemy planes were shot down and many more damaged by British warplanes during heavy attacks today around the coasts of England, the Air Ministry announced.

BULLETIN

Bucharest, July 11—(AP)—Rumanian gunboats were reported tonight to be preventing some 50 idle British tankers from leaving Rumanian ports.

Informed sources said this was one of a series of measures intended to bring British oil interests here under control of the new pro-German government of Ion Gigurtu.

Previously the government had decreed a ban on the transfer of shares in foreign-owned oil companies in Rumania without government permission, designed to check a reported British plan to hand over oil interests to soviet Russia.

(By The Associated Press)

Germany's assault on British sea lanes, life lines of the United Kingdom, has wrought great destruction on shipping, costing Britain 609,000 tons by submarine attack alone in the past six weeks, the Nazi high command proclaimed today.

This rate of sinking exceeds that of the World War period of unrestricted submarine warfare, when U-boats of the imperial navy and other action sent down an average of 250,000 tons monthly.

The Nazis declared their sea campaign rapidly was becoming a starvation-blockade of the British isles. Nazi claims were a reminder of the early months of 1917 when the United Kingdom had a food supply sufficient for only three weeks.

Defiantly, Minister of Agriculture R. S. Hudson told the House of Commons that Britain would eat—regardless of German submarines and bombers—but must increase home production.

Nazi bombers ranged England again. The government reported a "few" deaths and claimed eight raiders had been brought down.

Italian Ship Lost

Italy reported the loss of 220 Italian and Albanian officers and soldiers in the sinking, after an unexplained fire, of the Italian motorship Paganini June 28 off Durazzo, Albania.

Britain is making progress in her effort to make friends with Soviet Russia, Germany's economic partner, the House of Commons was told by R. A. Butler, foreign affairs undersecretary.

New light on the controversial question of "battleship vs. plane" in actual combat was cast today with the disclosure by General Francisco Pricolo, Italian air chief, that 300 Italian planes engaged in the battle of British and Italian war fleets in the Mediterranean.

Dispatches from Rome acknowledged that a large part of the Italian aerial attack force returned with damage and with wounded crewmen—hit by terrific drum-fire from surface ships. Three Italian planes were lost.

By contrast, Sir Andrew Cunningham, commander-in-chief of the British Mediterranean fleet, reported that his ships suffered not a single casualty.

The Italian high command, in a belated communique, insisted however that Italian bombing planes set fire to the 42,100-ton British

Newsreel Executive Sees Nothing Mysterious About War Film Showing

New York, July 11—(AP)—A newsreel executive says any "mystery" attached to the recent showing of a film of Nazi conquest in Europe to some members of congress is unwarranted.

E. B. Hatrick, general manager of the Loew's, Inc., newsreel, American owners of the film, said the private showing which stirred one representative to suggest it was a German plan to "intimidate" U. S. lawmakers was arranged by Rep. Collins (D-Miss) because he thought it might be interesting from a technical standpoint.

"Of course, it is German propaganda," Hatrick said. "It was edited by Germans and came to us through Berlin. Many newsreels, as are news pictures and news stories, are subjected to censorship of the belligerent countries where they originate."

"I can't see why anyone should get excited or want to make a mystery of it. It was simply a war newsreel, nothing more."

Hatrack said Loew's had decided against distributing the film for public showing because audiences had shown apathy toward the crush of war episodes in newsreels recently.

Townsend club members of the 13th congressional district met at the Pines Sunday for an all-day picnic and to complete their plans for 13th district convention to be held at Polo Aug. 4. A fried chicken dinner was enjoyed at noon and a fine program was a feature of the afternoon. Dave Thompson was master of ceremonies for the day. Soloists of the day were Mrs. J. Johnson of Rock Falls and Miss Ethel Cluts of Franklin Grove. Cliff Leatherby of Rockford was present and played several selections on the vibraharp. Brief talks were given by Ray Webb, Chicago, and L. C. Barden of Beloit, Wis. J. C. Cozy, Sterling, introduced the speaker of the day, Editor Woodstock of Elgin. There were over 1000 people present.

Thirty-five farmers attended the oat demonstration at the Harvey Newcomer farm Wednesday morning. Prof. J. H. Hackleman, extension agronomist from the University of Illinois led the discussion and comparison of the seven varieties of oats growing on adjacent strips of land on the Newcomer farm. The demonstration was under the direction of the Farm Bureau and D. E. Warren, Ogle county farm advisor.

Bioff Making Another Attempt for Freedom

Chicago, July 11—(AP)—The third petition for a writ of habeas corpus since William Bioff was incarcerated last April 15 on an 18-year-old pandering charge was on file in federal court today in behalf of the west coast movie labor leader.

The new petition alleges among other things that the six-months sentence was being used as a pretext to destroy his (Bioff's) prestige as a labor leader. Both previous petitions were denied.

Bioff's original sentence was imposed in 1922. He spent eight days in jail then and was released on bond pending an appeal, but did not return to jail although the conviction was sustained. The unserved sentence was discovered last November and the labor leader subsequently was returned here from Hollywood and entered jail after an unsuccessful legal battle.

Tavern Bouncer Dies From Wounds Inflicted by Muchly-Sought Man

Chicago, July 11—(AP)—Philip Malloy, 33, died early today in a hospital from a bullet wound which police said was inflicted by a man whom he ejected from a southside tavern where he was the "bouncer."

Malloy's assailant was identified by William Devereaux, chief of the Chicago branch of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as Angelo Timpone, 36.

Devereaux said that Timpone, arrested Monday shortly after the shooting, had been sought since July, 1937, when he fled from Indiana to avoid trial following the slaying of a grocer and the wounding of a woman in a Jeffersonville, Ind., holdup.

Police said Malloy ejected the man July 3 and that the latter then returned to the tavern Monday and shot Malloy without warning.

Devereaux said Timpone also was wanted in Edwardsville, Ill., for jumping a $15,000 bond early in 1930 after he was sentenced to one to 14 years on an attempt to commit robbery charge. At the time he was free on bond pending an appeal.

MAYOR KELLY FOR LUCAS

Chicago, July 11—(AP)—Mayor Edward J. Kelly says he is going to do "whatever I can" to obtain the Democratic vice presidential nomination for Illinois' Senator Scott W. Lucas.

At a press conference yesterday the mayor pictured Lucas as a candidate who would find strong support from the farm population and one who has "high qualifications" for the office.

New G. A. R. Commander Installed This Morn

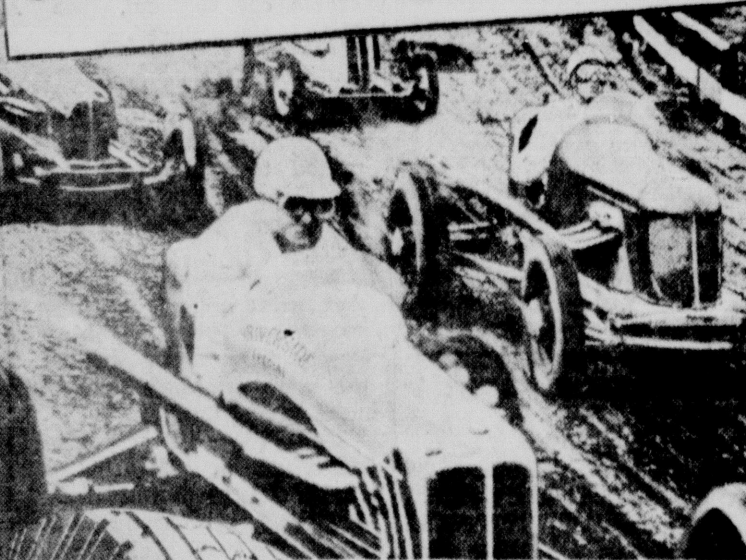

Washington, a., July 11—(AT)—A. T. Anderson, 94, was installed as new Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in a brief ceremony on the front porch of the home of a friend in this picturesque college town.

Thus was written another unusual chapter in the history of the 74-year-old organization which is fast nearing its end.

As senior vice commander-in-chief, Anderson succeeded the late commander, John E. Andrew of Quincy, Ill., upon his death June 30.

Under G. A. R. by-laws, any other member may act as installing officer. In this case it was the only other surviving member here, George Harshman, 94.

GOOD OLD Rheingold BEER

Do you know that the products of 3 million acres of farm land are consumed annually in the making of beer? Over $600,000,000.00 worth of farm products has been purchased by the brewing industry since 1933.

For over 80 years we have used only the finest grades of grains and hops. In so doing we have lived up to our reputation for making better beer. Thus RHEINGOLD BEER has kept old friends and made new ones, proving the old saying, "Once a Rheingold Beer Drinker—Always a Rheingold Beer Drinker."

Try GOOD OLD RHEINGOLD BEER today. It's EXTRA GOOD—costs no more than ordinary beers and is "Always Uniform."

Woman Defeats 3 Men for Iowa Nomination

Iowa City, Ia., July 11—(AP)—On her 50th birthday anniversary, Mrs. Zoe Nabers of Fort Madison was selected by the first Iowa district Democratic convention as its candidate for Congress in the November general election.

Mrs. Nabers won the nomination yesterday on the seventh ballot. Her opponents in the six ballots were three men, each of whom received more votes than she did in the June primary.

The nomination went to convention because none of the four primary candidates received the necessary 35 per cent of the total vote needed to win.

Mrs. Nabers will oppose Representative Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City, incumbent Republican.

The Buick Special 4-door touring sedan $996*

IT'S pretty conclusive proof of a real value when more people than ever before buy a certain make of car in a single year.

That is true of this 1940 Buick.

It's pretty good proof of value when a higher percentage of all new-car buyers selects that car after looking the field over.

That is also true of this 1940 Buick.

So on sheer value, it should be clear that right now, "Best buy's Buick"—the question we'd like to ask is: Isn't this also the best time to buy?

Isn't this the smart time to put yourself behind a brand-new power plant, husky, thrifty, thrilling — and smoother than ever?

Isn't this a smart time to get more room—up-to-date controls — sure, soft brakes — new rubber — springing that never needs lubrication — truly modern features (Buick has no less than six dozen) — months on months of reliable, trouble-free, low-cost, stay-out-of-the-shop service?

Buick prices begin at
for Business Coupe —
Sedan prices start

*delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

All things considered, we think it is. Especially so when you consider current low prices.

It won't cost a cent to try a Buick, get the low delivered prices and have your present car appraised. Hadn't you better see your Buick dealer now — and do just that?

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and traduced, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

The "Only" Man

Wiseacres are now convinced that Mr. Roosevelt will accept a third term nomination and make the race to succeed himself on the theory that he is the only man who can lead the United States safely through its hypothetical crisis.

Let us examine this claim that he is the only American capable of the task.

To begin with, he is an American. There are lots of Americans, more than 130 million of them, and of this number probably 10 million are eligible by education, age and place of birth, to run for President. He is nearly 58 years old and was born in New York of aristocratic parents. He served as a senator in New York state, took an assignment as assistant secretary of the navy at a time when that was a fashionable job, and failed to show any constructive results in either position. He served as governor of New York and left the state in the red. He became President of the United States as result of a world-wide depression which he blamed upon Mr. Hoover, and won re-election by instilling the idea that if he were not re-elected, everybody on the relief rolls would starve.

He has done nothing as yet, that anybody couldn't have done. He has distinguished himself as an American statesman by increasing taxes, wasting the proceeds and suddenly facing a defense emergency with an empty treasury and the American frontier on the Rhine river. He has talked tough to the dictators while backed with an army inferior in numbers and equipment, and embroiled himself on both sides of the world so that he doesn't know where to keep the American navy. He gives a "factual" account of American defenses by telling how many airplanes, ships, etc., we have "on hand and on order." He compares this favorably with the armaments of the United States as of the year before Hitler came into power, when the whole world was broke. He recognized the bloody Stalin regime in order to get more orders, and never got the orders. He has put radicals, if not actual communists, in key positions in the government of the United States. While urging the appropriation of billions to build up American defenses of ships and planes, he has sold, or sought to sell, these same defenses to the allies to prosecute a war the United States had nothing to do with starting. He has fostered class hatred, disrupted business and industry and violated his solemn pledges. He has multiplied the number of bureaucrats he professed to abhor and extended to the limit the national debt about which he once screamed in anguish.

He has built bridges where there was no water, instituted vast power projects in places where there were few industries, tried to spend the people's money on a tide-harnessing experiment at Passamaquoddy and has found nothing to cure the country's economic illness except the borrowing of money and doing it out to the dissatisfied, the hungry and homeless who remain that way for want of constructive measures.

And yet they say he is the only man capable of leading the country through a hypothetical emergency.

Where Ignorance Is Bliss

Far up in the mountainous, heavily wooded hinterland of Peru, near the Bolivian and Brazilian borders, flying explorers came unexpectedly upon a little Eden.

Eighty white families lived there. For 25 years they had been totally out of touch with civilization. They knew nothing of the war that is devastating Europe. They had not even heard how the World War came out.

They were just living there, working and enjoying the fruits of their work, troubling nobody, untroubled by the world. It is hard to recall any very good news that they've missed during those 25 years.

But into every Eden comes at length the Serpent. These people were foolish enough to ask the aviators to request the Peruvian government to provide them with a radio station.

Nobody knows when he's well off, not even people blessed with isolation from the world and its feverish madness.

War: Means or End?

Is war a means to an end or an end in itself? Strangely as it falls on American ears, there are some who believe that it is an end in itself—that man is destined for war as the sparks fly upward, and that in war he finds the highest and best expression of his own existence. We tend to look on war as a grim way to attain an end when all other means have failed.

When the war in Europe is over, and the countries which took the sword have achieved the material ends for which they strove, will the sword then be sheathed? Or will it still be brandished in the world's face as a reminder that some still consider it a good in itself?

The whole future course of the United States depends on which outcome we see. If the decision is to cling to war for itself, then no part of the world is safe except under the protection of its own superior weapons.

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited)

Washington, July 10.—These Democratic politicians have been growing around here in the dark for days, scratching their ears off. They have been able to find out very little about what was going on in preparation for Chicago, and what they could ascertain they did not like.

Dismay followed the apparently authentic report reaching only the chosen few that State Secretary Hull had declined a vice-presidential nomination tendered him by Roosevelt personally. The reports did not mention what reason the esteemed right hand international man of the president gave for the rejection, but these were assumed to be personal.

While there is always a prospect that anyone in this administration will change his mind at least once, the politicians were inclined to count Hull out.

Their figuring in the dark developed this following line of apparently general top layer thought:

If Roosevelt is going to run, he cannot do much campaigning, certainly not enough to keep up with the type Wendell Wilkie, the Republican nominee, has been promising. The international and defense situations furnish logical reasons for him to remain in Washington, making only two or three big speeches.

If he drafts himself, even reluctantly, he will need an excellent public speaker and active dynamic character to carry the fight to the hustings. Two men were reported at the top of his connections as list, subject also to change without notice, Supreme "foolhardy." Douglas has never name has been frequently mentioned, and one whose name has not, Assistant War Secretary, Louis Johnson.

The still active Democratic party, as distinctive from the strictly new deal group of presidential associates, do not like Douglas. Mention of his prospects in the pre-convention party confab brought forth such expressions as "shameful," "disastrous," "foolhardy." Douglas has never trained with the Democratic congressional groups.

Johnson's status is exactly opposite. He would be a vigorous campaigner, has American Legion connections and support in spots where the administration has always been politically weak, but the strict new dealers have regarded him with only slightly less personal antagonism than the real Democrats regard Douglas.

Outside the White House, party commanders have additional names on their extensive vice-presidential list (no one dared assume aloud that Roosevelt would not run until he said so himself). These included Paul McNutt, social securitist; Sam Rayburn, house floor leader; Speaker Bankhead, Senator Hiram Byrnes as they sound, Senator Alben Barkley, Democratic floor leader and Mr. Garner, the V. P.

One's best meeting the requirements for active campaigning among these were McNutt, Byrnes and Rayburn. But the entire list failed to draw enthusiasm from the new deal groups, who would prefer Mayor LaGuardia of New York, or the president's new alter ego, Commerce Secretary Hopkins.

It hardly seemed possible, therefore, that any overwhelming degree of enthusiasm or unity could be attained even if Roosevelt runs and chooses a running mate from among the ships so far in the hat.

Despite denials, the Farley deal to retire from politics and direct the affairs of the New York Yankees is well along the way. The chairman has indicated to his friends he will retire from his national committee, job after the Chicago convention, but will keep his cabinet post until some time later.

If the Farley forces have not been disappointed by the latest turn of White House thought, all their mothers-in-law must suddenly have died in unison. Their faces are the longest seen in Washington since the Hoover Republicans read the election returns of 1932.

The old suggestion that Roosevelt accept a third term reluctantly with promise to resign and turn it over to a vice president has been revived, but practically all the party leaders privately doubt this one with cold water conversation. The argument, most frequently heard is that it would not offer a straight-forward above-board method of procedure. Above it would give Roosevelt a debt means for getting his successor elected, most of his advisers seem to believe it is a little too debt to be advisable.

On the new Pennsylvania turnpike, no highway is permitted to cross at a grade. There will be 160 over-passes and under-passes to carry crossroads over and under the pike.

During the first four months of 1940, there was a total of 9390 traffic deaths in the United States. This is a 6 per cent increase over the same period of 1939.

It takes the average motorist about 13.7 seconds to pass a car from the time he starts to accelerate until he is back in line ahead of the passed car.

The Douglas B-19, now being built for the army, will have four motors, have a wing span of more than 210 feet, weigh 42 tons empty, and have a 6000-mile range.

but "how will he announce his decision?"

Nearly everyone in the Capital takes it for granted the president will accept Democratic renomination next week. There is a variety of guesses, however, as to the manner in which he will break the news.

Will it be a dramatic statement to the whole nation, or will it be a quiet anti-climax to the third term argument which has been running for nearly four years?

It would not surprise some politicians if the president were to fly to Chicago to address the 1,094 convention delegates in person. He did that in 1932 immediately after his first nomination, but since he became chief executive he has not flown.

A few hold to the theory that he will say before the convention begins that he does not wish renomination, but that he will be "drafted" and will accede in the long run. In such a case, the belief is that he will make a radio speech to the nation explaining that the defense emergency motivates him to break tradition.

If he is going to say anything this week, his press conference tomorrow morning may furnish the final opportunity, for he intends to cruise down the Potomac during the week-end.

A press conference announcement would climax two years of banter on the third term between the chief executive and the reporters who cover the White House. The question of whether he would run again has been put to Roosevelt in dozens of forms, but at no time has he done anything except parry the queries with a sally or a laugh.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

PEACE—SHE'S WONDERFUL

BY ISABEL WAITT

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Bertrand wires Rhoda to postpone her wedding. Denny is mildly angry. The train stops abruptly in the desert. Ogden leaves. Peace is left behind and Carole jumps from the moving train. Denny watches, helplessly, as they disappear in the distance.

CHAPTER X

DENNY struggled to the rail to leap from the speeding train, but other passengers held him back.

"Don't be a fool! They'll be all right. You'd be killed!" "Caleb—Mr. Ogden will pick them up in his car!" called Mrs. King, from the rear. "Unless, of course, a coyote or a rattlesnake—"

"They'll be all right," the conductor reiterated. "Shack right near the track. See it? Your runaway must have been in it or we'd have seen her. Darned lucky the young lady didn't hurt herself, jumping off my train! Indignation emanated from him.

Carole, Denny realized, had risked her life. A fine person he was to be entrusted with the care of a child.

"I can't stand it!" Rhoda blazed. "This is the end, Wayne Dennis!" "Shut up, will you?" Denny grabbed the conductor's arm.

"When do we stop? Can I get a car or—I'll be getting dark—a plane? Where are we, anyway?"

"There are wolves after dark!" a woman piped up. "And gila monsters. Oh, I'm going to faint!"

The conductor drew Denny away from the pack. Denny could get off at the first station. He could get a car, or, possibly, wire Winslow for a plane. Sure, there'd be time before dark. Daylight lasted in Arizona. More than likely this Mr. Ogden would have seen the whole business, and would pick up Carole and Peace and bring them to the very same station, before Denny had made his arrangements. Nothing to worry about, but that train couldn't be delayed another minute. He was sorry. They were about a hundred miles from Winslow.

Mrs. King stood at Denny's elbow, wiping her eyes. "I wish I'd never given Caleb $500 for that option on his old oil well."

"Five hundred dollars, madam? So that's it!" The conductor sighed as if the limited meant the weight of the world. "Better let Mr. Dennis telegraph your bank to stop payment."

"B-b-b-but I gave him cash." "We'll do something after I find Peace," Denny told her.

And this was the woman who'd put the police on his trail. And she was going to watch out for Carole. Sucker! In his misery Denny almost pined her.

IN a few minutes the train slowed down at a cluster of "dobe" shacks. Could that be a station? And a battered roadster beside it! "Good luck!" called several passengers.

"Pick you up en route, if you get a plane," the conductor said. "If we don't, wait for me in Los Angeles," Denny instructed Rhoda. "Cocacoin Grove!" It was the only place he could think of at the moment, since their previous plans had been to go on at once to La Jolla. Rhoda would have to look out for herself. His anxiety was so great he forgot to kiss her goodbye.

A wan young station agent greeted him as he hopped off. "Jumpin' bullfrogs—a passenger!" Denny had explained the predicament before the train was under way. "Can I take your car?"

"Sure, buddy. Only poor Liz has a flat. Patch her up in a jiffy."

"What would you do," Denny put it up to him, "if you had two girls lost in the desert and one on the limited?"

The agent scratched his rumpled head. "Me? I'd telegraph for a plane. Car couldn't catch the train, even without a flat. Then I'd pick up the lost girls and get 'em safely aboard the train at first possible station, and head for Mexico by my lonesome."

Denny heard the click of the instrument, while he watched a group of barefoot, half-naked Mexican children playing in the sand.

The station agent accepted a cigarette. "Be here before you can say Jack Robinson. Hope your folks stick to the tracks and don't try to wander off. Not much twilight here in Arizona. Old sun smears itself all over the sky and plops out of sight. Lots of time before dark, though."

The dark! Denny smothered a rising fear.

It seemed years before he heard the droning of the plane. Already the sun had splashed sunset gold across the sky. The light still held, and the afterglow would follow briefly. A little crowd gathered from nowhere to watch the plane land.

"Goodby, buddy!" The agent waved away Denny's bill. "Good luck, and when you find 'em, take my advice and beat it to Mexico. Three girls—no harem for me!" Denny climbed into the plane. "Follow the track east. There's nothing near the spot but a tumble-down shack, but it's before you get to Gallup." The pilot knew his business and every inch of the country.

Denny felt comforted, if only the sky didn't fall in. Upward they soared, over a vast expanse of sand, mountain rimmed in the distance. The plane was sailing smoothly.

"That it?" It couldn't be possible! They had only been a few minutes in the air, yet there was the ribbon of a road where the dot of a car had been, toward which Denny had seen Ogden run. Only no Carole was in sight, waving, as she should have been.

"Looks like it, only where are they?" Gone with that Texan? And if so, where? "Let's land and investigate."

THE pilot set the plane down like a baby, and the two men headed for the shack.

"Look. They've been here," Denny said. "See those tracks?" He pointed to the impressions made by small high heels and those of a child's shoe. "Peace! Carole!"

"They pushed open the door and stepped into a windowless hovel, with a dirt floor covered with debris. The only sound to greet them was a loud snore, coming from a half-breed Mexican-Indian sleeping in a corner.

The pilot was outside studying the tracks again. "They came here, all right, and then they ran. See, Mr. Dennis, how much deeper these tracks are!"

"Carole! Peace! Where are you?" Denny shouted with all his might.

"Oh, Denny! Oh, Denny!" The cry came faintly to his ears. And facing it, he made out two little figures running toward him from sagebrush back of the shack.

"There they are!" Denny raced to meet them. He caught Carole in his arms, as she came panting up, dragging Peace.

"Oh, Denny! That awful man! If it hadn't been you! We were hiding behind those mesquite bushes. We heard the plane, but we had to be sure who was in it, because we were afraid he'd come back for the money. We came out as soon as we heard you call."

"Did that man molest you?" Train or no train, he'd go back and make him pay for it.

"She means Mr. Hogden!" Peace piped, delighted when the pilot picked her up and carried her.

"He stole poor little Joany, the horrid old thing!"

"And that isn't all he stole," Carole said. "Wait till you hear." (To Be Continued)

Pioneer Resident of the Kingdom Is 90 Years Old

BY LOIS J. STIMELING

"I like to work in the garden!" That's what Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Floto, pioneer resident of the Kingdom, says when she's asked to name her favorite hobby.

Yesterday, Mrs. Floto marked the beginning of her ninety-first year by attending a birthday party arranged as a surprise in her honor by the Missionary society of the Kingdom Evangelical church. The celebration was held at the Charles Swegle farm on rural route 3, with about 50 guests attending.

Mrs. Floto was born July 10, 1850, near Danville, Pa., fifth of 11 children born to Marshal and Effie (Flick) Gorton. Her childhood "The Doll House", although she is unable to tell the story associated with the origin of the name.

Has Vivid Memory

Although she was little more than three years old when she came west with her parents, Mrs. Floto says she remembers many incidents of her childhood in the east, as well as happenings on the journey to Illinois. For instance, she recalls that "I got a whipping from my mother" when she loitered on the way home from a neighbor's house one day to gather white grapes along the creek.

The Girtons were six weeks and three days on the road between Pennsylvania and Illinois, traveling by covered wagon drawn by horses. Mrs. Floto recalls "climbing a mountain somewhere" en route, and laughingly recalls that she "scooped" about being thrown against the wagon lanterns while crossing the corduroy bridges near Chicago. In that early day, she will tell you, Chicago was little more than "a mud hole."

Upon reaching Lee county, Mr. Gorton purchased 200 acres of land located between Nachusa and the Kingdom, where the Reid March farm is now located. The family called at Nachusa for mail, which arrived only occasionally.

As a child, Mrs. Floto helped gather wild plums, grapes, elderberries, currants, and other fruits, and her father and brothers kept her mother well supplied with game, including venison, wild geese and ducks, and fish. One of her brothers, John Wesley, "could shoot like a man at the age of eight," she says. Feathers from cranes shot by men of the family were sometimes used to trim hats for the mother and daughters.

Saw Lincoln

She recalls having seen Abraham Lincoln in Dixon. "He was not a very pretty man," she says, but hastens to add, "He was awfully jolly, though, and said lots of funny things in his speech." She was past 24 when she became the bride of Lewis Floto, a young farmer, who was born in Ogle county. His death occurred in 1922.

Of the couple's four children, only two are living. The aged woman now spends six months of the year with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Gates of the Kingdom, and makes her home with her son, George Floto, of rural route 3 the remainder of the year. A son, Ernest, and a daughter Jessie, are deceased.

Mrs. Floto's family also includes eight grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren. She is the last surviving child of the Marshal Girtons, who came west in the early '50's.

With the exception of three and a half years' residence on a farm near Pleasanton, Kan., she has always resided in the Rock river valley, since migrating westward. Repeated invasions of grasshoppers caused the Flotos to leave Kansas and return to Illinois.

Dreads War

Mrs. Floto hopes the United States will remain neutral in the present crisis abroad, for she has vivid memories of anxiety and grief experienced during the three wars she has seen in her lifetime. Two of her brothers, one 15 and the other 17, enlisted for service near the end of the Civil war, and an uncle, William Gorton was killed and she well remembers the war with Spain in '98. One of her 16 nephews who saw service in the World war was killed in action, and several others later died from illnesses contracted during the conflict. Shepard Gorton, another uncle, met death in the Mexican war.

Except for a pain in her left side, from which she has suffered since a severe illness in April of this year, a life of health has been the fortune of Mrs. Floto. Her hearing is unimpaired; she reads the daily papers without the aid of glasses; she enjoys the radio "sometimes"; works with her flowers, "just the same," although her doctor has asked her not to; likes to ride in an automobile—and has a permanent wave at least once a year. This is the first year she has not planted and cared for a vegetable garden.

She has crocheted seven bedspreads, which she has given away to relatives and friends, has pieced and quilted more quilts than she can remember, still crochets rugs, and can "sew as straight as ever, after I once get the needle threaded."

She went for a ride in an airplane at the Dixon airport, soon after her eightieth birthday anniversary. Asked if she enjoyed the flight she'll tell you "It wasn't long enough."

Mrs. Hazel Miller of Dixon is a niece of Mrs. Floto, and Lewis Gorton is her cousin.

She has no particular formula for long life. However, she believes "lots of hard work never hurt anyone."

TO TEXAS

Miss Dorothy Hurst will board a south-bound airplane next week for Houston, Tex., where she will enjoy a fortnight's summer holiday with relatives.

Billinger Sisters Are Hostesses at Birthday Party

Forty young party-goers were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben B. Billinger on North Galena avenue yesterday afternoon for a "Little Miss Six" and "Little Miss Eight" garden desert luncheon. The event was a double celebration of the July birthday anniversaries of Beverly Anne Billinger and her little sister Patricia Donna, who issued their invitations in a clever poem written by their mother.

Names of the little hostesses and numerals indicating their ages trimmed two large birthday cakes, dressed in pink and white icing and candles. Gayly-colored pin wheels marked each cover, and there were also exciting favors of floral fans for the girls and calliope whistles for the boys.

Added to the excitement of unwrapping their gift packages, was the arrival of a birthday telegram from Beverly of Champaign, formerly of Dixon. Afterward, the group was entertained with games in John Dixon park across the street from the Billinger home. Jane Goff and Virginia Moeller supervised the fun, which was recorded on moving picture films by Mr. Billinger.

Included on the guest list for this merry summertime party were Evelyn Ruth Carpenter, Anne Lesage, Jeannie and Freddie Johnston, Mary Dixon, Henry Dixon, Sheila Chapman, Beverly Mae Beier, Sylvia Schuler, Peter Schuler, Richard Joslyn, Billy Docter, Tommy Glatzer, Nancy Lee McWethy, Bennie Roe, Peter Findley, Joe Findley, Sara Lynne and Martha Anne McNichols.

Jean McColey, Charles Lesage, Stevie Lindell, Ann Chapman, Norman Burke, Patricia and Jimmy Wadsworth, Janet Gronberg, Rosemary Millay, Elsie Bunnell, Anne Beamblossom, Virginia Cron, Janet Robinson, Judy Jones, George Banta, Jr., Donald Memler, Barry Bort, Beverly Bergeson, Billy MacLeod, Betty Lou Newman, Bobby Beede, Robbin Thompson, Ann Chesley, Marjorie Cron, Marjorie Zoelck, and Dicky Bowden.

While the games were in progress in the park, Mrs. Billinger was receiving 50 additional guests at tea in honor of Mrs. Ellis C. Bergeson, a newcomer to Dixon. Mrs. Frank J. Robinson presided at the frappe bowl. Mrs. Charles Goff assisted Mrs. Billinger.

On Saturday the Billingers will be leaving for a vacation at Pine-Top resort on Big Bass lake near Eagle River, Wis. Mr. Billinger expects to return to Dixon in two weeks, and his family will remain in the north until Labor Day.

Uruguay does not have capital punishment.

WISCONSIN GUESTS

Mrs. Charles Reynolds of Waukesha, Wis. spent today in Dixon as the guest of Miss Grace Crawford. At noon, members of the Kendall club were entertaining at luncheon in compliment to the visitor, who is the former Miss Lorna Dement of this city.

Mrs. Hawley Wilbur, sister of Mrs. Reynolds, and Mrs. Julian Hart of Waukegan were also visiting here today as guests of Mrs. Robert Sterling.

WAWOKIYE CLUB

Elsie Torti, Darlene Clymer, and Marian Hahn were guests of the Wawokiye club yesterday at the home of Mrs. George Patterson on rural route 3. Elsie and Darlene, 4-H club members, presented a demonstration of alternation of dress patterns for the club members.

Following the business meeting, the guests visited the Pattersons' hollyhock garden, which is in its prime just now.

FRIENDLY EIGHT

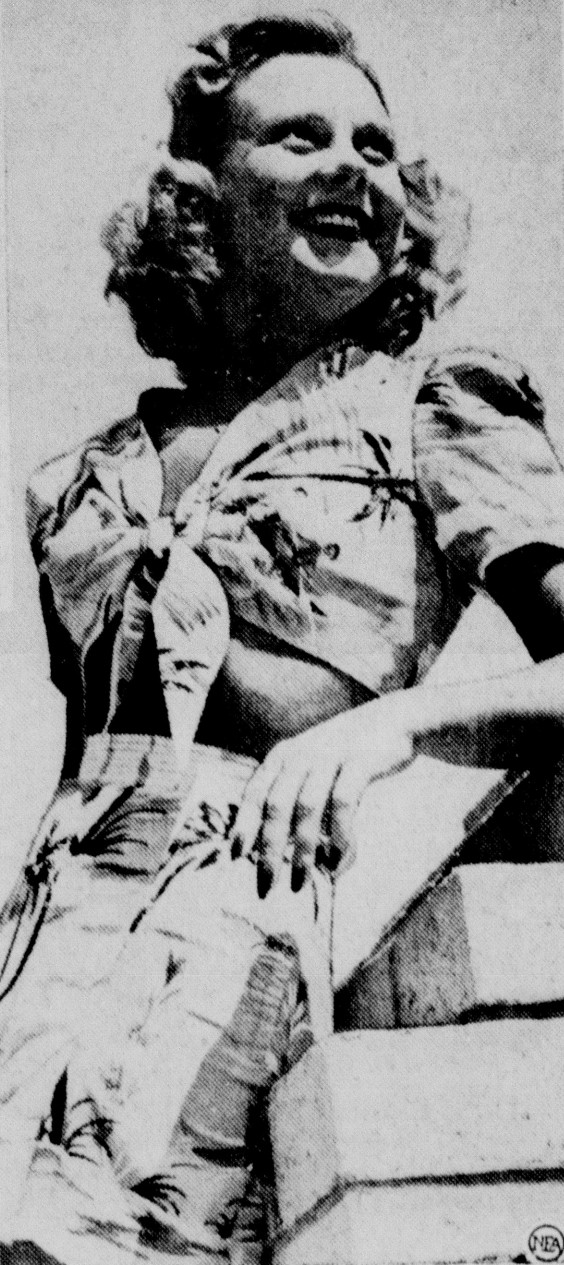

Mrs. Roy Randall's home was yesterday's meeting place for members of the Friendly Eight club. Tables were placed for luncheon, and score favors went to Mrs. Randall, Mrs. James Buckingham, Jr., and Miss Donna Cable.

Linkswomen Make Progress in July Contest Tourney

A number of matches in the July contest for linkswomen of the Dixon Country club were played off yesterday, when the feminine golfers occupied the links for their weekly Ladies' Day event. Mrs. Carl Plowman, carding 79, was credited with low net for the day, and Mrs. Gunnar Nilsson was low putter, recording 30 strokes.

Mrs. Nilsson defeated Mrs. Plowman, four and three, in their July contest match. Mrs. Floyd Chapman finished ahead of Mrs. Leo Miller, five and three, and Miss Elsie Neff won from Mrs. Eugene Barrowman, six up.

In previous matches, played last week, Mrs. Chapman eliminated Mrs. Brewster, Mrs. L. C. Shoaf defeated Mrs. Harold Coss, Mrs. Plowman was victorious over Mrs. Carl Buchner, and Mrs. Nilsson won from Mrs. Homer K. Millard. Undaunted by yesterday's sultry temperature, 15 players were teeing off at 9:30. Afterward, luncheon was served at the clubhouse.

Emily Swan and Bettie Haines won honors in last evening's two-ball foursome play for junior girls, who were enjoying their regular Wednesday supper match. Guest day will be observed by this group next week.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. Ruth Crabtree Bovey entertained six guests at luncheon on Wednesday.

FOR THE GOVERNOR

Harrisburg, Pa., July 11—(AP)—An attaché of Governor Arthur H. James' office said today he had been informed that a bomb planted near the scene of the Republican national convention had been intended "for the governor".
In the United States today there are 48,492 communities that are served only by motor vehicles. This represents a population of 7,844,509.
Over a 10-year period, motor vehicle operation has increased 26.5 per cent.

tragedies of this kind."
"This is a challenge to your efficiency, your courage and your department, and to New York city, the Empire state and to the United States of America," Valentine declared. "This is just the beginning. There have been a series of bombings in Europe. It is possible that we shall have more here, due to the representatives of belligerent nations that are here."
The commissioner had difficulty in controlling his emotions as he spoke of Detectives Joseph J. Lynch and Ferdinand S. Socha, bomb-squad members killed when the bomb removed from the British pavilion at the fair exploded shortly thereafter.
Referring to the unknown perpetrators, Valentine said:
"If we had had them there (at the fair) it was in our hearts to take them out and tear them limb from limb. We have got to get them. Your professional reputations are at stake."
Valentine originally intended his remarks about the bombs in Philadelphia to be confidential, and not for publication, but later changed his mind and permitted reporters to use the material.
Philadelphia, July 11—(AP)—A crude time bomb was found here June 24, the opening day of the Republican national convention, in a pile of rubbish on the second floor of a central city building.
Lieutenant Albert A. Granitz and six detectives of the police radical squad raided the Workers' School, which Granitz said was communist-operated, and discovered the bomb in an anteroom outside the women's rest room.
They arrested two men, who later were placed under $3,500 bail each on charges of sedition and possession of bomb. Granitz said the men were Adolph Heller, 36-year-old attorney, and Bernard Rush, 30, a salesman. They denied the charges.
The bomb was described by Granitz as a wooden box containing one stick of dynamite, an alarm clock, a detonator, gunpowder and gun cotton. The clock was not attached to the detonator, he said.
If the bomb had exploded, the lieutenant said, it would have had "the same effect as a three-inch shrapnel shell."
Plot Story Denied
At a hearing for the accused men, counsel for the Workers' School objected vigorously to Granitz's assertion that the school was a communist organization.
The Philadelphia Inquirer of June 27 said that detectives had uncovered "a widespread Red bomb plot" involving the planting of bombs near Convention Hall, site of the Republican convention.
Eight home-made bombs filled with nuts and bolts were used in the "plot", the newspaper asserted. Police denied the story.
James H. (Chooey) Malone, director of public safety, is on a cruise to the Bahamas and could not be reached for comment on the statement of Lewis Valentine, New York police commissioner, that several bombs had been found here during the GOP convention.
Before leaving Philadelphia, Malone denied that any organized bomb plot had been discovered.
John F. Sears, chief local agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said he had no knowledge of the discovery of bombs here during the convention or of a plot.

Noble Refugees

German bombs make no allowances for age, sex or position, so these young members of the English nobility were sent to Canada's safety for war's duration. Pictured arriving in Montreal are, left to right: Angus James; Venetia Wawcus; Jerry James; the Earl of March and Hon. N. C. Gordon Lennox, sons of the Duke of Richmond; Lord Edward Cavendish and Hon. George St. Lawrence Ponsonby, sons of the Earl of Deesborough.

Germans Claim—

battle cruiser Hood, world's biggest warship, scored two bomb hits on the deck of the 22,000-ton aircraft carrier Ark Royal, and two on "another English battleship."
British Issue Denied
The British Admiralty issued a formal denial.
"A report has been received from the flag officer commanding the British forces that, although several bombs fell close to his ships, no direct hits were secured and there was no damage or casualties," the Admiralty statement said.
The 300 Italian planes used in the two-day battle presumably represented the biggest aerial assault ever hurled against warships.
The attack on the Hood and Ark Royal occurred Tuesday, the Italian high command said in waters south of the Balearic islands.
This was apparently the opening class of the undecisive battle between the British and Italian navies for control of the Mediterranean—climaxed when the fast war fleet reportedly was driven to the shelter of shore defense guns.
In the eastern Mediterranean where Turkey is mobilizing against fears of a Russian coup against the Dardanelles, official soviet quarters insisted today that Russia has no intention of making any demands on Turkey.
"There are no reasons for the U. S. S. R. to attempt to get control of the Dardanelles," a spokesman said. "Our relations with Turkey are good, and the Straits are open to us."
Quiet in West Europe
Comparative quiet prevailed in western Europe, after yesterday's great aerial battle over Britain, though some German planes attacked various areas and the government reported "a few" deaths.
A lone Nazi raider was reported to have machine-gunned civilians and a fire engine crew in the streets of a southeast English town, killing two persons, and looted and machine-gunned cattle in a marsh.
The plane was believed shot down in the sea later by British aircraft.
British guns and fighter planes brought down 14 of yesterday's raiders and badly damaged 23 others. An undisclosed number of persons were killed in inland bombings. At times as many as 150 planes battled over the coast.
Germany claimed one cruiser sunk, another damaged and four merchant ships sunk and three others hit in a bombing raid on a convoy in the Straits of Dover.
See No Help From Ireland
The British government, meanwhile, virtually gave up hope that Ireland (Eire) and northern Ireland (Ulster) would work out a defense pact to strengthen Ireland to resist a possible German attack to gain a foothold for a blow at England.
Declaring "we will not send our men to take part in European wars", President Roosevelt asked congress for an additional defense expenditure of $4,848,171,957. The president told congress "we will repel aggression" against the western hemisphere.

From Camp Ralston

We had horse-back riding on Monday morning. I rode Dimples and my two tent mates rode Copper and Boots. It was quite hot but we liked it anyway.
It rained this morning when we were over swimming. The pool was a little bit cold, so the rain warmed it up. None of us passed our swimming tests this morning, but I think I can swim. Three of us went to the swimming pool and sang two songs for us. After that we went down the hillside where the girls in the Frog Pond Unit read stories about the summer stars. They dressed in mosquito netting and flashed their lights. I can't tell you exactly what I mean but it was nice.
Well since this is rest hour and I am tired, I guess I'll stop.
Jean.

Clean Politics—

for two years. Such cases are subject to review by federal courts, but the house struck out a judiciary committee amendment which would have permitted trial by jury.
Although the bill in general limits national campaign contributions by individuals and organizations, including business concerns, to $5,000 a year, state and local party committees were exempted from this provision under a last minute amendment offered by Rep. Vreeland (R-N.J.).
Firms under contract or seeking a contract, to be financed in any part with federal funds, are denied the right to make any political contributions.
Another provision bars contributions in the form of purchases of such articles as the Democrats' 1936 "Campaign Book", which in some cases brought $100 a copy, or advertising therein.
The bill will become effective as soon as the president signs it, but Rep. Dempsey (D-NM), its house sponsor, interpreted its provisions as broad enough to exempt delegates to the Democratic national convention next week, because they already have been selected.
It is reported that 88 per cent of the trucks registered during 1939, were privately owned, and that the largest single group of truck owners were farmers.
Safety records indicate that it is five times more dangerous for a pedestrian to cross in the middle of a block than at the corner.
In accidents involving pedestrians, 75 per cent of the pedestrians injured are hit before reaching the middle of the roadway.

the time this was discovered said "that one was addressed to the governor," the associate of the Pennsylvania chief executive said.
He quoted James as saying he knew nothing about it at the time, learning of it just recently.
"The governor said he was not especially afraid of the incident," the spokesman said. "He pointed out that it sometimes is dangerous simply walking across the street in everyday life."
James was a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

KNACKS PRACTICE TONIGHT

The Dixon Knacks hardball players who meet Maytown here at Reynolds Field Sunday are scheduled for a practice session tonight at 8:30. Manager Hi Emmert says the members of the team have been lax in appearing for practice and not because they don't need it. It seems the boys are giving a little too much thought to softball and not enough to the welfare of the Illinois State League these days.

TENNIS CHALLENGES

Dick Joslyn, No. 4 man in the rankings of the Dixon Tennis club, challenged top-ranking George Covert at the high school courts last night. Covert defended his position with set scores of 4-6, 6-4 and 9-7. Ward Smith has challenged Covert for a Saturday morning match.

THE WATER IS FINE

John White is getting us enthused with reports that efforts are being made to stage an aquatic meet here sometime later this summer. Plans are still indefinite but the idea sounds swell.

CARLSON BROTHERS PLAY TONIGHT

The Carlson brothers of Dixon will play tonight at Buda. It is reported that O. E. Rowley will be the pitcher for the brothers and Joe Murphy will complete the battery.

BITS ABOUT THEM

Bob Evans is reported to have signed to play with the Sinclair softball team. Ray Holland has asked for his release from the Borden club and last night began playing with the United Cigar.

HIGH LIFE GOES TO ASHTON

Manager Harry Slain of the Dixon High Life team has asked that the players report at Jay Curran's at 7 o'clock for transportation. The Dixon team will meet the Ashton all-stars in the feature game at Kersten field tonight.

GIRLS' TENNIS DOINGS

Laverne Wade defeated Betty Ambrose at the high school tennis courts yesterday with scores of 6-2 and 6-1. The sets left Miss Wade in sixth place in the standings of the girls club and Miss Ambrose is 15th. Anna Malarecky challenged and defeated Betty Witzleb with scores of 6-2 and 7-5. Miss Malarecky is now second with Miss Witzleb third. Complete rankings among the girls are as follows, in the order of their standing: Gertrude Wallin, Anna Malarecky, Betty Witzleb, Jeanne Hemmen, Mary Infield, Laverne Wade, Kate Rice, Margot Howard, Irene Kortes, Dorothy Hurst, Vera Anning, Avis Adams, Marion Akeret, Alberta Stocker and Betty Ambrose. Two matches are planned with the Freepoint girls in the near future.

IN FOURTH PLACE

The DeLand club of the Florida State League, for which Louie Bevilacqua of Dixon is pitching, was in fourth place in the league standings as of Monday morning. DeLand has won 38 and lost 41 games for a standing of .481. Sanford leads with .507.

THIRD ACE IN HOLE

A third hole-in-one was reported today from Plum Hollow Country club. Yesterday afternoon, in full view of four witnesses, Vinny Oehl scored an ace on Number 5, a distance of 198 yards and a hole which carries a par three.

Top-Seeded Bobby Riggs Faces Tom Brown Today in Tennis Tournament

Indianapolis, July 11—(AP)—Top-seeded Bobby Riggs of Chicago drew Tom Brown of San Francisco today in men's singles of the 53rd annual Western Tennis tournament.

Wesley Van Horn of Los Angeles, ranked No. 2, faced Robert Smid of Chicago.

In women's singles Alice Marble of Beverly Hills, Calif., seeded first, faced Mary Ann Davis of Columbus, O., and Virginia Wolfenden of Berkeley, Calif., No. 2, met Virginia Lettner of Toledo.

Play continued in the men's and mixed doubles divisions also. Miss Marble, busy in the mixed doubles yesterday, didn't play in singles but Miss Wolfenden advanced at the expense of Gloria Thompson of East St. Louis, Ill., 6-2, 6-0. Gracyn Wheeler of Santa Monica, Calif., No. 3, eliminated Peggy Kendall of Indianapolis, 6-1, 6-1.

Catherine Wolf of Elkhart, Ind., put up a stiff battle but finally fell before Mary Arnold of Los Angeles, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

OREGON TEAM IS LEADING IN GOLF TOURNEY AT POLO

Dixon Golfer Holds a New Record For the Halfway Mark

Ken Detweiler, Dixon Country club golfer, took individual honors in the opening of the annual Lincoln Highway golf association tournament yesterday at the Edgewood Country club in Polo. Detweiler finished the four rounds of nine holes with a score of 138 to go 22 up on bogey, a new record for the halfway mark in the Lincoln Highway event.

Rock River Golf club of Oregon took the team lead in the first 36 holes played with 69 up on bogey. Polo was second with 54 up, DeKalb third with 48 plus, Dixon fourth with 25 plus, Morrison fifth with 17 plus, Clinton, Ia., sixth with 15 plus and Sterling seventh with four minus. Oregon's score was also a new record for the halfway mark.

Close behind Detweiler for individual honors were John Franklin of Oregon and R. Lahti of DeKalb. Franklin was second with 141 and plus 18 and Lahti was third with 141 and plus.

Scores of the Dixon team members for the first day were as follows: Detweiler 138, 22 up; Mark Keller, Jr., 159, 7 up; Ray Wilbur 160, 4 up; Floyd Smith 159, 6 up; Kent Stuart 175, 6 down; Bill McNichols and L. G. Rorer 178, 8 down.

Tim Sullivan of Dixon, who has served as official scorer of the association's tournament for the past several years, is again serving in the current matches.

Tonight the association's annual banquet will be held and prizes will be awarded. The site of next year's tournament and an election of officers will complete the official business.

DARKHORSE FACES FAVORITE IN WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY

South Bend, Ind., July 11—(AP)—It was dark horse against favorite today in both semi-final matches of the Western Women's junior golf tournament.

The tournament's "giant killed"—Eileen Quinlan of St. Paul, Minn., who seems to play best when the going is the roughest—met Jeanne Cline, the Blooming (Ill.) youngster who cut such a figure in last year's women's national tournament.

In the other semi-final, Indiana's hope—Mae Louise Davison of Leesburg, a little town in the Hoosier lake country—clashed with Georgia Tainter of Fargo, N. D., North Dakota champion and one of the more highly regarded players.

Miss Quinlan showed yesterday that her first-round victory over medalist Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia., was no fluke by staging a brilliant rally to win from Margaret Gunther of Memphis, 1 up in 20 holes. Five down at the turn, Miss Quinlan squared the match on the eighteenth green and then won on the second extra hole.

Miss Cline had no trouble at all winning her second-round match. She ran away from Virginia Smith of Milwaukee to win 7 and 5.

Miss Davison took a 4 and 3 victory from Betty Haemerle of St. Louis. Miss Tainter whipped Ed Dell Wortz of Fort Smith, Ark., 3 and 2.

The long-cherished dream of Dixon's football fans began to shape into reality yesterday afternoon when work began on the project to light the high school athletic field. Attending the turning of the first shovel of dirt were members of the board of education and others who have been working with them to complete the project. Pictured above, from left to right, are: High School Athletic Director A. C. Bowers; I. N. U. workman; O. W. Dodd, James R. Palmer and Robert Warner, members of the board of education; Superintendent of Schools A. H. Lancaster and Arnold Schultz, head of the line department of the I. N. U. company. Other members of the board of education are Dr. David L. Murphy, Charles Miller, Dr. W. A. McNichols, and F. K. Tribou.

Qualifies in Meet NATIONAL LOOP RESUMES FLAG RACE WITH PEP

Winning Championship Will Be An Honor This Season

By BILL WHITE Associated Press Sports Writer

You hardly can blame the National Leaguers for being excited. For the first time in five years, winning the league championship will be an honor—not a one way ticket to the guillotine.

In the past four years, if a team won the pennant it simply meant the unfortunates had to suffer the humiliation of playing the Yankees at least four games.

But the National League all-stars, as they went back today to their various teams to resume the business of selecting a league champion, did so with a lift and a swagger that has been noticeably missing in the past.

For out in St. Louis they had seen for themselves what they had been reading all spring and summer—that the Yankees are just another ball club this year.

So winning this year's National League becomes a feat worth accomplishing, carrying with it, as it does, the possibility of also winning the World Series. Even a blackout couldn't hide the fact that when the Nats scored three of their runs in that 4-0 shellacking the backbone of the American League team was Bill Dickey, catcher; Red Ruffing, pitcher; Joe Gordon, second base, and Joe DiMaggio, centerfield—Yankees all.

So you'll pardon the emancipated National Leaguers the best of the summer, if they act a little cocky. They hardly can wait to see how it feels to enter a World Series without having their admirers shake their heads sadly.

At the moment, the Cincinnati Reds have the inside track, being currently atop the league by the slimmest of margins. Whether they'll stay there depends on how they survive the series beginning tonight with what the people in Brooklyn modestly call the greatest team in the history of baseball. Bucky Walters will go to the mound for the Reds, and either Curt Davis or Whit Wyatt will draw the assignment for the Dodgers.

The New York Giants open a visit at western swing. If they stay within shouting distance of the Reds and the Dodgers on this trip, it means a certain three-way fight right down to the wire, a fine old National League custom. The Cardinals open tonight against the Cardinals in St. Louis.

In the league's third night game, the Phillies move into Pittsburgh, and in a daylight double-header the Boston Bees and the Chicago Cubs cross bats.

The League-leading Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians, in second place by a half-game, drew easy assignments in their league resumption. The Tigers open against the disappointing Washington Senators, and the Indians meet Philadelphia, some 15½ games out of first place, and hence hardly a serious pennant threat.

The St. Louis Browns pick on the friendless Yankees at New York, and the White Sox swing out against the fading Red Sox at Boston.

At Dedication

CHARLIE GRIMM

With the announcement of the opening of the ticket sales campaign for the night football games of the Dixon Dukes this fall comes the news that Charlie Grimm, former Chicago Cubs manager and popular Columbia Broadcast System announcer, will attend the game dedicating the lighted field here on September 13.

Charlie, more familiar perhaps with baseball has, nevertheless, promised to broadcast the opening game with the Mt. Morris griders.

Tickets for the season—selling at $1.50 for four home games, will go on sale starting Tuesday.

It's getting so that anything can happen in the Dixon Softball league—and it DOES. In the first game at the Airport last night the Freemans team rallied with three runs in the last inning to defeat the Three Deuces, 4 to 3.

In the nightcap game the United Cigar warriors slaughtered and stuffed the Moose with a lopsided, 32 to 1 score in the sixth.

In the opening game the Three Deuces took the lead in the first of the initial frame when Sweeney clouted a home run as second man up and with no one on base. In the second frame Full was walked, went to second and third on the first sacker's error and scored on an error by the pitcher.

Reynolds Hits Homer
Reynolds of Freemans scored a home run in the last of the fourth for his team's first score. In the first of the seventh Sweeney got his second hit for the Three Deuces, went to second on a hit by Glessner and scored on a sacrifice by Bushman.

In the last of the seventh the Freemans proved that a ball game is never over until the last man is out and rallied with three runs to win. The inning began with Dempsey's walk. Woolridge popped up to the third baseman and Slain walked. Cramer singled and one runner scored and Slain went to second. Pitman was safe on an error by the pitcher and Slain came in with the tying run on an error by the rightfielder. Kuhn singled and dove in the winning run when Cramer raced home.

Williams was the winning pitcher and allowed only five hits, walked one and fanned three. Minnick, on the mound for the Three Deuces, allowed eight hits, walked four and struck out two.

The victory advanced Freemans to fourth place in the tightening league.

Iowa Fugitives Seen in Illinois Prior to
Effort to Aid Escape

Des Moines, Ia., July 11—(AP)—The three convicts who broke out of Fort Madison prison were in Hamilton, Ill., a few hours before they tried unsuccessfully to help three friends escape from the penitentiary Monday night, authorities said today.

Officials announced the manager of a hardware store in Hamilton, across the Mississippi river from Keokuk, told them the fugitives purchased a pair of bolt cutters from him Monday afternoon.

After the attempted break, the bolt cutters were found beside the prison wall, it was announced. The fugitives, widely sought since they broke out of the prison June 22, are Ivan Sullivan, 28, Lowell Maenze, 27 and Forrest Estes, 36.

During the attempted break Monday night, a guard was killed and one of the three convicts who tried to escape shot himself to death with a gun thrown over the wall by one of his "outsider" friends.

The War Today—

kans. It is a crucial operation between Britain and the axis.

To Mussolini has been assigned the task of smashing England's naval might and clearing the British out of "our sea," as the Italians like to think of the Mediterranean. It is a job which will take some doing, for while the Italians have a sturdy fleet, it has perhaps no more than two-fifths of the power of the British navy.

Rival accounts of this opening engagement are contradictory and leave much to be desired. Each side claims to have chased the other from the field of battle, so that one gets a picture of them pursuing each other in a circle, like a dog trying to catch up with his own tail.

The thing that matters, however, and this is a point which must have received much consideration at Munich—is that in this and other recent operations the British have been showing a decidedly aggressive attitude. On none of the fronts are they waiting for the enemy to bring the fight to them.

The most striking indication of British initiative was, of course, the determined and well-nigh unprecedented action she took to prevent the French navy from falling into German hands. No nation which didn't mean business would challenge world opinion by going to the extreme of taking over or sinking with loss of life the bulk of her ally's fleet.

Almost equally impressive has been the way in which the Britons have been carrying the air-war to Germany, and fighting toe-to-toe with the Nazis in aerial battles. Yesterday's big fight over England, involving some 150 planes was a fair example. Exact details aren't available, but the British, who claim to have been heavily outnumbered, say they shot down 14 of the raiders and badly damaged 23 others.

Whether this is an indication of the British power of resistance to the coming German onslaught is naturally a matter of pure speculation. However, it can be taken as meaning dogged determination. In view of the manner in which things are moving in the Mediterranean and in the Balkans, one would rather expect Hitler to make his big assault on England quickly, to avoid getting caught in difficulties on other fronts.

His immediate worry is the danger of an upheaval in the Balkans, which would cut him off from badly-needed supplies and create a threat at his own back door. It is reported that one difficulty may have been postponed—the Hungarian demand for the return of the rich province of Transylvania, over which King Carol has been ready to fight. It is understood that Hitler has told Hungary to lay off for the time being. That doesn't settle the matter, of course, but any delay is to the fuhrer's advantage.

Meanwhile, the Turks have been expected to receive demands from Russia at any time for a share in control of the Dardanelles Straits—one of the world's most important strategic positions which form the gateway between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea. It even was said that plans had been made to call the Turkish parliament to consider these demands tomorrow.

At the same time it has been reported that Russian warships were lying off the Bulgarian port of Varna on the Black Sea. The Turks have feared this might mean that the Bolsheviks were preparing to apply pressure on Bulgaria to make the latter afford facilities for a passage of Red troops through her territory in event of a clash between the Soviet and Turkey.

Russia has long been credited with wanting control of the Dardanelles about which it is said: "He who controls the Dardanelles controls the Near East." If she did covet this control, this certainly would be a time to impel haste in order to forestall either the Rome-Berlin axis or the British.

A spokesman for official Russian quarters at Istanbul this morning declared that the Soviet has no intention of making any demands on Turkey. He characterized the reports as "pure nonsense."

However, the Turkish government continued its defense preparations.

Millions in Jewelry

New York, July 11—(AP)—America's growing list of distinguished war refugees included Baron Edouard de Rothschild today, and with the 70-year-old French financier came $1,000,000 in precious gems.

Customs inspectors at LaGuardia field, where the baron, his baroness, and daughter, Bethsabée, alighted from the Yankee Clipper yesterday, were dazzled by the jewel-studded family heirlooms which the baron carried in a small bag.

The party entered the United States on visitors' visas, having left their Paris mansion May 20.

Customs men said no duty was levied on the jewels, as they were classified as personal effects of a non-resident.

American citizens are allowed to bring back duty-free personal effects bought in this country, but they must pay duty on purchases abroad when the goods exceeds $100.

Orders Places for 25
Thousand Airplanes for Army and Navy of U. S.

Washington, July 11—(AP)—The National Advisory Defense Commission announced today that it had placed orders totaling $100,000,000 with airplane manufacturing companies for 25,000 airplanes for the army and navy.

Dr. George J. Mead, aeronautical adviser to the commission, declared at a press conference that since July 1, the army and navy had been working closely with industrial representatives and that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had joined in the aircraft development program by agreeing to lend funds to industrial companies to finance necessary expansion of plant facilities.

In addition, he said, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics recently has received $8,400,000 through a presidential order for the building of an engine research laboratory, probably at Langley Field, Va.

The army and navy have pooled their technical work and agreed on joint standards for engines, propellers, designs and other details in order to facilitate the program.

Approximately 25 per cent of the planes to be built will be for the navy, the remainder being army bombers, pursuit and reconnaissance planes.

Memphis, Tenn.—"Stick with those bloodhounds," a guard cautioned "Joe" Carter as they started on the trail of an escaped convict. Several hours later they fished Carter's body out of Wolf river. He had tried to swim the river after the dogs.

Packard Co. Resumes
Negotiations With U.
S. Defense Officials

Washington, July 11—(AP)—Word came from the White House today that William S. Knudsen had predicted that the tax amortization agreement reached by administration leaders would expedite many defense contracts with companies which have been reluctant to undertake such work.

Stephen Early, President Roosevelt's press secretary, told reporters of Knudsen's statement when he was asked whether the agreement, reached yesterday, would clear the way for conclusion of a contract with the Packard Motor Company to build 3,000 airplane engines for this government and 6,000 for the British.

Knudsen is production chief of the defense commission.

M. M. Gilman, president of the Packard Company, said here yesterday that negotiations "definitely are not off."

Gilman resumed conferences today with Knudsen. He also was reported to be seeking financing for upwards of $30,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to meet the cost of plant expansion and tooling for the engine order.

PROSPECTS IMROVE

London, July 11—(AP)—Foreign Affairs Under-Secretary R. A. Butler told the House of Commons tonight that success in Britain's attempts to make friends with Soviet Russia had "appeared more likely" in recent months.

A SHORT CIRCUIT, MAYBE

Cheyenne, Wyo.: Jim Griffith received a letter from a Philadelphia Democratic organization urging him to organize a "Rally Round Roosevelt" club. Griffith is chairman of the Wyoming Republican state central committee.

Pekin Man is Fatally

Hurt in Auto Collision

Lincoln, Ill., July 11—(AP)—Orville Cunningham, 26, of Pekin, was fatally injured and two others received minor injuries early today when two automobiles collided on route 66 two miles north of Williamsville.

Cunningham, who was driving alone toward Springfield, died in Deaconess hospital here an hour after the accident in which his left arm was severed. State police said Cunningham's machine and another driven by Mike Maier, Thomasboro, sideswiped each other. The Pekin man's automobile overturned and skidded along the pavement on its top.

There are 6288 persons per motor car in China.

Army Posts, Stations
In Illinois Will Get
Five and Half Million

Washington, July 11—(AP)—Army posts and stations in Illinois will benefit by nearly $5,500,000 under provisions of a $67,304,931 war department construction program announced by Acting Secretary Louis Johnson.

Earmarked for the ordnance report at Savannah, Johnson said, was $2,500,000 for roads, utilities and other construction, $1,142,900 for underground magazines, and $706,000 for expansion of magazine loading plant.

Other Illinois projects included $175,000 for Rock Island arsenal; Scott Field—$192,000 for temporary barracks, $33,300 for mess halls; Chanute field—$669,400 for quarters, officers mess and school buildings.

New System of Shopping Saves Family Enough To Provide Many Luxuries

Finds Food Costs Lower and Meals Better When Everything Is Purchased at New Type "Food Department Store"

Dave was the kind of fellow who put up his coat collar and averted his eyes when he passed a store window full of glittering gadgets. His great joy was putting around his little cellar workshop, but he hadn't been able to afford it lately. Living costs were high, his family needed all the money he earned—and he wanted them to have the best.

Imagine his surprise, then when one day his wife up and presented him with a shining new set of tools. To his delighted and anxious inquiries, she assured him that she had not denied herself or the children anything. "I saved it on our food bills," she said proudly.

Dave was incredulous. Hadn't he noticed that the meals were better than every lately? Hadn't he remarked just the other night on the variety of foods they'd been getting? Hadn't the children perked up and asked for more second helpings than ever before?

Yes, all those things were true, Sue agreed. "But they're all part of the same story. I've been buying all our food under a new policy. Honestly, dear, I couldn't believe it when I discovered I was actually getting more delicious and varied menus and still saving $1—sometimes even $2—a week."

"New policy?" queried Dave. "What do you mean?"

"Well a new kind of food store opened up near here," Sue explained. "It's really five stores under one roof. There's a meat market where I get the meats you've been raving about. There's a produce market that has the crispest, freshest assortment of fruits and vegetables I've ever seen. There's a bakery where I get bread and rolls even better than I can bake myself. There's a dairy where I get delicious butter and cheese. And there's a grocery with every kind of bottled and canned food you can think of. I understand that, altogether, there are more than two thousand different items in the whole store."

"Do you mean that new A&P Super Market down the street?" Dave wanted to know.

"The very same," said Sue. Dave soon discovered at his office that the other men's wives had become super-shoppers also. The reason? Because they all save money and get better food at A&P. Because they like to shop where they can take their choice of foods from marvelous big displays of all kinds. Because they realize that A&P Super Markets' large volume of sales means lower costs and lower prices.

Well, Dave's happy with his tools now. He even dares to stop and look into that hardware store window, knowing he can get new tools once in a while with the money Sue saves by buying wisely at her new A&P Super Market. He and his whole family are living better—buying more—and paying less—thanks to their A&P Super Market.

Methodist Church Notes

Plans are being made for a daily vacation Bible school to be conducted for two weeks beginning July 22.

The young people of the congregation are planning a picnic immediately following church services Sunday. Each family represented is asked to bring sandwiches, a dish to pass and their own table service.

The sermon topic for next Sunday is "The Methodist Social Creed." Everyone is welcome. The Ladies' Aid will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Ellis Kugler.

Baseball

The Harmon Sluggers defeated the Walton junior baseball team Sunday by a score of 17 to 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy of Racine, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Conroy of Chicago spent Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Delhotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Jacobs and sons of Dixon were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bontz.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Henry and children and Sylvester Henry spent Tuesday with Ed Henry, a patient at Hines Memorial hospital in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vilven, Mrs. George Kipfer and Mrs. Nancy Vilven of Pontiac were Tuesday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bontz and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peach.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Willstead, a daughter, at the Dixon hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Boyer and sons and Mrs. Nancy Boyer of Waterloo, Ia., were here for the Fourth and were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schulte and other relatives. On Sunday a picnic dinner was enjoyed at the Schulte home in honor of their guests. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ora Skyles and family, William Skyles of Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Helfrick and children of Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kent accompanied their son James to Chicago Monday to consult an eye specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Peach of Walnut were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peach.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt O'Brien and son of New York city are guests in the Roman Malach home.

Edward and Mildred Hazen of Chicago are spending a couple of weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Allen.

A novel lightplane engine starter, recently developed, enables the pilot to spin the motor from his seat by pulling a handle which operates a ratchet device behind the propeller.
